What better time for a little love and care than during a pandemic. We should have known that Ed Arata and the volunteers at Knight Foundry would be busy. What's been accomplished is amazing, some would even say — historic.

“We are headed into the ‘Home Stretch’ on the New Machine Shop project,” said Ed Arata. “One of our volunteers was able to arrange a one-week donation of a large all-terrain man-lift from D&D Lifts in Tracy, so that we could finish the corrugated metal siding and do repairs on the high parts of the building.”

With the front yard of the New Machine Shop cleared, a big usable space for displays is now ready on the perimeter.
